#hotelsforfuture: climate protection on holiday!

7.5 kg. This is how much CO₂e is produced on average per overnight stay in the BIO HOTELS®. This makes them industry-wide pioneer in the field of climate protection. Conventional hotels exceed this value. According to the environmental indicators of the German Hotel and Restaurant Association (DEHOGA), the average values between 16.9 - 47.6 kg CO₂ per overnight stay, depending on the star category. Every two years, the hotels have their CO₂ footprint calculated in order to optimise it.

Despite all efforts, it is impossible to avoid releasing CO₂e. Therefore, the majority of of BIO HOTELS® already compensate for the CO₂e they produce by buying climate certificates to make their hotel climate-neutral. In order to become a climate-positive BIO HOTEL, the double amount of caused tonnes of CO₂e must be compensated. In total, the BIO HOTELS® have offset 10,954 tonnes of CO₂e for the years 2021 and 2022 by purchasing climate certificates. The values for 2023 are currently being recorded.
